. . . . Supplement to THE IRON AGE, July 1, 1897

The Iron Age
Manufacturers
Index

RELATING TO THE

Hardware,
Iron, Steel,
Machinery
and Metal Trades

Revised to June 10, 1897

FOR the convenience of the trade the following Index has been compiled giving the names of manufacturers and their products in the Hardware, Iron, Metal and Machinery Trades. It has been prepared in response to the demand for a reliable Index of the lines of business to which it relates, and it is hoped that it will be of service to buyers both in this country and abroad, covering as it does a wide range and representing in detail a great variety of products.

The addresses of the manufacturers and further information in regard to their goods may be obtained in the advertising columns of THE IRON AGE.

THE IRON AGE INDEX
